To Do Is Greater Than
To Know!

Students learn foundational concepts and then apply the concepts during hands-on learning.

WE DO!

Litchfield Middle School offers one Career and Technical Education Course from the Alabama State Course of Study for Family & Consumer Science.

Exploring Family & Consumer Sciences is designed for middle-school students.

Units of study for Exploring Family & Consumer Sciences are Foundational Standards, Family and Community, Financial Skills, Apparel and Interior Design, and Food Preparation and Planning.

Family, Career, and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) is our student organization. FCCLA is an integral, cocurricular component of Family and Consumer Sciences classes in Alabama.

FCCLA enhances classroom instruction. FCCLA helps students develop leadership abilities and workplace-readiness skills. FCCLA provides opportunities for both personal and professional growth.
